ACOUSTIC SOLUTIONS

At Sonas Interiors, we combine beautiful design with intelligent sound control. Our acoustic panels are engineered to enhance both aesthetic and performance, creating quieter, more comfortable spaces for work, relaxation, and collaboration.

SUPERIOR ACOUSTIC ABSORPTION

Made from eco-friendly polyester fibre, each panel is 60% recycled, chemically safe, and designed for superior acoustic absorption with an NRC rating of up to 0.86. Whether installed on walls, ceilings, or partitions, our panels reduce noise, improve speech clarity, and elevate interiors with a seamless, modern finish.

CUT, SHAPED, AND CUSTOMISED

Available in a wide range of colours and thicknesses, our acoustic materials can be cut, shaped, and customised to suit any design vision – from bold feature walls to subtle sound dampening solutions.

ACOUSTIC WOOD PANELS

For a more architectural statement, our acoustic wood panels blend the warmth of natural wood with the acoustic performance of our PET felt backing. The result is a visually stunning system that enhances sound quality while adding depth, texture, and sophistication to walls and ceilings.

OUR TEAM

Founded in Britain by a close group of family and friends, Sonas was born from a shared passion for thoughtful design, craftsmanship, and collaboration. What began as a simple idea has grown into a brand dedicated to creating spaces that feel balanced, refined, and beautifully functional. With every project, Sonas continues to build on its British roots - blending creativity and care to craft interiors and furniture that stand the test of time.

Warren CEO

Warren brings over 15 years of experience in the interiors industry around the world. His career has been shaped by a passion for thoughtful design, problem-solving, and creating environments that enhance the way people live and work. As CEO of Sonas, he leads with a hands-on, approachable style, using his experience to guide the team with clarity and purpose. His commitment to quality, honesty, and long-term relationships continues to define the culture of Sonas and the way we work every day.

Hattie Operations Manager

Originally from the UK, she works behind the scenes to ensure every part of the Sonas operation runs smoothly and efficiently.

With a strong eye for detail and a calm, solutions-focused approach, she oversees day-to-day processes, coordinates teams, and ensures projects move from concept to completion without disruption. Her commitment to organisation, reliability, and clear communication plays a vital role in maintaining the high standards Sonas is known for.

Joseph Sales Manager

Joseph brings a strong background in client relations and a natural ability to understand what people need to make their projects a success. As Sales Manager at Sonas, he leads the front-facing side of the business, supporting clients through product choices, project requirements, and the full sales process with clarity and confidence. His relationship-driven approach, communication skills, and commitment to delivering a smooth experience make him an essential part of how Sonas connects with its customers.
